Ok, thanks David. I understand computer problems, I was just able to access EPA's intranet yesterday afternoon and my work drives on Monday. I am still trying to get access to our old email system to find some emails from 10 years ago.

Stuart, I have had significant computer and connection issues the past 2 weeks. I have been trying to continue this effort but been slow. I think they have finally gotten me to about 90% capability. I am not sure of Jon and Julie's status but I need another week if possible.

Hope you and family are well.

Dave

I wanted to check on how the analysis is progressing? I was getting asked at HQ if this was still progressing with the ongoing virus crises. I hope everyone is doing well and safe.
